TO

MY LIFE-LONG AND HONORED FRIEND,

JOHN LANGDON SIBLEY,

LIBRARIAN EMERITUS OF HARVARD COLLEGE,

THIS MEMORY OF A SUMMER'S VACATION

IS INSCRIBED.

BLOCK ISLAND, named for the Dutch explorer, Adrian Block, is in latitude  $41^{\circ} 08'$  North, and longitude  $71^{\circ} 33'$  West. It is distant southwest from Newport about thirty miles, and north of east from Montauk, the easterly end of Long Island, about eighteen miles.

It was first described in the year 1524 by the French navigator, Verrazzano. In 1614 it was visited by Block, who gave it its present name. In 1636 the Boston trader, John Oldham, while at anchor in its harbor, was killed by the Indians. Colonel John Endicott was soon afterwards sent by the General Court of Massachusetts to punish the offenders. He landed upon the Island and thoroughly accomplished his object. In 1658 the Island was granted to Gov. Endicott, Deputy Governor Richard Bellingham, Major General Daniel Dennison and Major William Hathorne, who in turn sold it in 1660 to Doctor John Alcock of Roxbury and his associates.

The year 1662 witnessed the first white settlement of the Island by a company from Boston and Taunton.

The old Cemetery from which the inscriptions on the following pages were taken is situated on the westerly side of a hill overlooking the Great Salt Pond. Many of its graves are marked simply by round field stones gathered from the neighborhood.

Most of the older inscribed stones are of slate, ornamented with the conventional winged skull and scroll borders, precisely like many in the sea-board towns of the mainland. These stones were undoubtedly imported from England already ornamented, and were lettered by a skilled hand in this country. A few of the stones are from the sandstone quarries of Connecticut, and these are generally devoid of ornamentation.

It is believed that exact copies of the inscriptions of all the stones antedating 1800 will be found in these pages.

EDWARD DOUBLEDAY HARRIS.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April, 1883.

THE BODY OF M
MARGRET GVTRY

DEPARTED THIS LIFE APRIL 5 1687

Robert Guthrig was Town Clerk in 1675, and probably the same Mr. Robart Guttereg, or Guttrig, was freeman of the colony in 1684, and died in 1692. The surname is a corruption of Goodrich, a family numerous in Connecticut at that time.

James Sands, with wife Sarah, though not in the first company, was of the Island early enough to participate in first division of lands. He was a freeman in 1655, and was Representative in 1678, 1680, and 1690. He had sons, John, James, and Samuel, who settled at Cowneck, L.I., Edward, and Job, and daughters, Sarah (who married Nathaniel Niles) and Mercy (who married Joshua Raymond). His wife Sarah died before July 6, 1702.

Captain John Sands and James Sands, Jr., were freemen of the Island in 1684.

Edward Sands was the youngest son of James, the first settler. The figures denoting the age are illegible on the gravestone. Livermore deciphers them as 43. He was made freeman in 1696; left at his decease a wife and daughter Sarah, but probably no other children.

 One of the original Proprietors

 A Lovely Example of Christian Virtue
 He died on the 17th of March 1737
 In the 102nd Year of his Age.

Simon Ray, Senior, was the son of Simon of Braintree, Mass., who died there 30 Sept., 1641. He was one of the original proprietors of Block Island, and was in the Taunton company that arrived there in 1661. In 1676 he was Deputy Warden and afterward Warden of the Island, was a freeman in 1664, and for many years represented the colony in the General Assembly.

He married Mary, daughter of Nathaniel Thomas of Marshfield, Mass., and had issue: Mary, b. May 19, 1667; Dorothy, b. Oct. 16, 1669; Simon, b. April 9, 1672; Sibel, b. March 19, 1675.

Trustam or Trustarum Dodge (sometimes spelled Daudg or Daug in the old records) was one of the first company from Taunton in 1661, was a town officer in 1676, had been admitted freeman in 1664, was living in 1684, and is thought to have been the ancestor of the after generations of Dodges on the Island. John and William Dodge, and a Trustarum, perhaps sons of the first settler, were freemen in 1678.
