Death of John Vaughan. We learned with deep regret, just as our paper was going to press, of the death of the venerable and excellent, John Vaughan, Secretary of the American Philosophical Society. He expired this day about one o'clock. Mr. Vaughan was nearly 90 years old. He was a native of England, but had resided in this country about 65 years. He was personally and intimately acquainted with most of the great men of our Revolution - Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Franklin and others - and was universally known for his active benevolence, purity of life and intelligence. He will be longed remembered, and his place in society we fear will never be supplied.

Murder in New York. A most horrid murder was committed on Saturday last by a man named Thomas Toppen, an Irishman, by beating and stabbing his wife to death in a brutal manner at their dwelling 129 Orange Street about 11 o'clock of that day, he refused to allow his wife to go to the pump for a pail of water, and on her attempting a second time to carry her wishes into effect, the monster seized a chair and broke it in fragments over her head and body; not satisfied, he next took a broom and beat her until it was split in many pieces, and with the splinters of the handle stabbed her in several places. To consummate his fiendish deed, he inflicted many blows upon her head and breast with a shoemaker's hammer, and stabbed her repeatedly with a knife and fork. He then laid himself on the floor to await the arrival of his son, whose throat, he said it was his intention to cut when he came home. A sick woman named "Kelly" who was a witness of the whole scene, towards evening, finding that Mrs Toppen was dead, gave the alarm, and the murderer was arrested and committed to prison.

An inquest was held yesterday on the body, and a verdict rendered that the deceased came to her death from injuries received by blows, etc. inflicted by her husband, Thomas Toppen. The victim was about 30 years of age.

The Last of Paul Jones' Tars

"Although his body is under hatches
His spul has gone aloft".

Henry Barnwell died in Upper Marion Township, Pennsylvania, on the ninth of December last, at the age of 87. He sailed with Paul Jones in the Providence, 12 guns, which in less than six weeks, made sixteen prizes. In 1777, he accompanied Paul to France, and was with him when he swept the North sea, when, with a single vessel, he became the terror of Scotland, when he fired the forts at Whitehaven, and lastly was in the bloody action, fought off Flamborough Head, between the Bon Homme Richard, and the British man-of-war Serapis 1799.

Another wife murdered. Another distressing murder was committed in our city yesterday by a husband on his wife. The circumstances, as we have learned them, are as follows:—a man named James Adams, a sweeper, of intemperate habits, after returning to his house in Amity Lane, next door to Wooster Street, on Thursday evening in a state of intoxication, commenced quarrelling with a servan girl named Ann Gorman, who resided with him. During the dispute he seized a plate from the tea table and threw it at the girl's head, when the wife expostulated with him. He then seized a carving knife that was on the table, and threatened that he would have both their lives. His wife told ~~her~~ him that she would call an officer and have him arrested if he continued his threats. At this he became infuriated, jumped towards her with the knife in his hand, and stabbed her in the breast, stomach and wrist. She immediately fled from the house, and on entering an adjoining dwelling occupied by Mr. Tanner, fell down and expired. Drs. B F Joslin and W C Roberts, were immediately called in, and upon a post mortem examination of the body, it was found that there had been three severe wounds inflicted upon her body, one of which had entered the left breast, and terminated in the right ventricle of the heart — the other was on the top of her stomach, and the third on her left wrist. The wound in the left breast is supposed to have caused her death.

Adams was examined last evening at the upper police office, and remanded back to the prison for trial. He refused to answer any questions put to him, by the advice of his counsel, John A Morrell, Esq. N.Y. Herald.

Murderer Acquitted John F Oschman, who had been on trial at Reading as an accomplice in murdering "Conrad Crist", was acquitted on Wednesday and discharge. Reinhardt, the actual murderer, is now in prison at Reading, under sentence to be hanged.

Hung by the Indians. A letter dated Fort Smith, Ark., Dec. 12, 1841, states that the body of a soldier named F. Klopp of Co; E. 4th Infantry, was found suspended to a tree in a secluded spot, near the military road, between that place and Fort Gibson. The supposition is that he was hung by the Indians. Baltimore American.

Murder "A most Foul" The Albany Evening Journal of Monday says: "One of the most cruel and cold-blooded murders which (have been) has ever disgraced the record of crime in the city, was committed about half past nine o'clock this morning by a man named Christian Burk, a journeyman tailor, a man of dissipated habits, upon the person of his wife, who is represented to have been an amiable and industrious woman. The dreadful deed was done with an axe. The body of the unfortunate woman was horribly mangled by ghastly wounds on her head, neck and other parts of her body. and she died in a few minutes. There appeared to be no cause or provocation for the commission of the deed, save a shadow of jealousy, as unfounded and baseless as a dream. It was evidently a cool pre-meditated murder. He declared he had done it and expected to be punished for it."

Suicide Bork (Bur) the murderer. We learn from the Albany Argus, that this individual whose unprovoked and cold - blooded murder of his wife, is almost without a parallel in the annals of deliberate crime, committed suicide in prison on Thursday eve last by hanging himself with a neckcloth to the door of his cell. So the tragedy will not be closed with the scarcely less revolting spectacle of a public execution.

Painful Catastrophe - Fire. Two little girls, one 6 years of age and the other 2 years, perished in the flames which destroyed the house of their father, Elias Russell of Constantia, Oswego Co NY on the 22nd inst. The fire broke out at 2 o'clock in the afternoon - about half an hour after, Mrs Russell, the mother of the children, had left the house to go to one of the neighbors. The oldest of the little girls walked 5 miles the same day, in consequence had retired to rest and the mother had left both asleep in bed. The house was immediately enveloped in flames, and the parents were there to witness the heart-rending scene, without the power of affording relief.

Accident A lad named William Stepney, who had been employed on board the steamboat "Troy, went into the wheel-house to oil the ends of the shaft, without giving notice to the Engineer; the engine being started, as is usually done before leaving the wharf, to warm the cylinder, he was caught between the bucket of the wheel and a brace, which injured him so as to cause his death in about an hour afterwards. Of course, no blame can be attached to anyone but himself. Troy Budget.

Shocking Murder On Saturday the body of Mr West, a resident of Sandlake, Rensselaer Co NY, a German, was found near that place, concealed in some brush or bushes. The deceased had been evidently shot and then bruised and mutilated in the head with a stone. Both the stone and the gun were found near the body, and it was ascertained that he had been robbed of money to the amount between $100 to $200.

The murder was committed by William Miller, also a German, on Sunday forenoon, a week ago, and for no other cause than the money on his person. Miller is also a resident of Sandlake, and is yet at large, and did not leave that place until Saturday last. The Governor has offered $400 for his apprehension. Albany Argus.

Melancholy Death The Boston Times mentions that at about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning, a young man named "Pierce" in a fit of derangement caused by the typhus fever, jumped from the third story window of a house in the rear of 9 Hanover Street in that City. He was left alone in the room for a few moments by his brother, who, one returning missed him and he was found dead in the yard. He has left a wife and family.

Probable Murder A Coroner's inquest was held in this county on Monday last, over the body of Mrs Robert Powell, who had died suddenly, under suspicious circumstances, and been buried with unnatural haste. At the instance of some of the neighbors, the Coroner was sent for, who, having summoned a jury, had the body disinterred. On examination, it was found to be perfectly livid on the back, almost of the consistency of jelly, and that the bruises extended to a considerable depth. The result of the whole investigation was, that her husband was arrested and committed to the jail of this city for further examination. Raleigh N C Register.

Man killed by his wife A man named Patrick McFall, who lived on Frog Bayou, Arkansas, got drunk on the 22nd ult. quarrelled with his wife and seized a gun for the purpose of shooting her. The woman to save her own life, took up an axe and struck him two blows on the head, which caused his death in a few hours. The coroner's jury returned verdict of a justifiable homicide.

Suicide A widow-lady named Wheeler, who resided in the lower part of Mt Pleasant, we learn, committed suicide on Friday night last, while on a visit to a married daughter, living at Sing Sing. It appears that since the death of her husband, Mrs Wheeler has been subject to great depression of spirits. On the night of her decease, she retired to bed as usual; during the night she was heard to leave the house, but this circumstance excited no suspicion. Not making her appearance in the morning, some of the family went into her room to ascertain the cause, when it was found she had left in her nightgown leaving the clothes she had worn the previous day in the room. Search was immediately made for her and she was finally discovered in the well, the top of her head only being above the water and her arms extended. The supposition was, that under the influence of a settled melancholy, she had thus voluntarily put an end to her existence. Winchester Spy June 4th.

Murder From Florida. The following harrowing tale of savage murder and massacre is copied from the "Star of Florida", published at Tallahassee, of the 9th inst. "On Wednesday the 7th inst, about 2 o'clock, in the afternoon a party of about forty Indians came upon the plantation of Capt Robinson; near the Sandy ford, on the Suwanee River. Capt Robinson's three sons and a hired man were ploughing in a field; they were all simultaneously fired upon by the Indians, three of the young men were shot dead, the other mortally wounded. Capt Robinson, who was at some distance from the young men, when he first saw the Indians and heard the report of their rifles, fled towards his house. When he approached it, he found another party of Indians already in the yard; he saw his wife and daughter break from the house and endeavor to escape. Mr. Robinson was shot and fell wounded; the daughter was pursued by an Indian, who caught her by the hair as she fled, and cutting her throat with his knife, dragged her back to the house, and with her wounded mother, she was thrust within doors, and the house fired. The living and the dead were consumed together. Capt Robinson rallied the neighbors, who soon after visited the spot. One of the youngmen, who was shot in the field was found still alive, though he did not survive.

This is the fifth or sixth massacre in the same neighborhood by the same band, within 12 months and yet scarce an effort has been made by the commanders of the post to dislodge them."

Death of Senator Southard. Intelligence of the death of this distinguished gentleman was received here yesterday. He died at Fredericksburg, Va. on Sunday morning last at 10 o'clock after a long illness. The National Intelligencer of Monday thus closed its notice of the event.

The age of Mr. Southard was about 55 years. He must be generally thought to be much older, so young (for his country) did he attain high reputation, and so early did he attain high reputation, and so early did that reputation bring him into Public Councils. He was chosen to be Chief Justice of his own State as early as 21 years of age. He became a Senator of the U.S. the year 1821; and in the year 1823, he was appointed by President Monroe to the highly responsible post of Secretary of the Navy, the duties of which office he discharged with preeminent ability up to the close of the Administration of Mr Adams. In the year 1833, he again took his seat as a Senator from his native State, and had ever since, up to the moment of his last illness, faithfully discharged the duties of that honorable station.

The funeral of Mr Southard took place at the Capitol yesterday.

Death of William S. Hastings, a member of the house from Massachusetts died at the Red Sulphur Springs, Va. on the 17th inst. Mr Adams announced the event on Monday and moved the customary resolutions of respect, and adjournment. The 8 members elected to the present Congress, have deceased - a mortality altogether unprecedented, we believe, in that body, within a similar space of time.

Sad Accident We regret to learn says the National Intelligencer, that a dreadful accident happened at the Navy Yard of this City yesterday evening, by which two worthy men were deprived of life O the one Barry, an aged gunner, who has been long in ther service of the U S and who had charge of the advance stores in the Yard; and the other an assistant of his, named David Davis. We have not learned fully the particulars of the accident but understand that it was caused by the bursting of a shell, which they were engaged in handling or charging. They were both instantly killed by the explosion.

Friday, July 1, 1842

Murder at Rahway. The body of Isaac Wyman (Winans) was found buried about a mile from his residence of Rahway, yesterday forenoon - the feet partly covered. Supposed to have been murdered, by an Englishman, who had been prowling about there for some days. He was arrested and examined.

Thursday, July 7, 1842

Accidents on the Fourth Philadelphia appears to have suffered nearly all the accidents this year, as far as we have heard. A young man, named Gideon Scull was drowned in the Delaware. Also a young woman named Lydia Ann Dickinson. A son of Caleb Hand, near Manyunk was killed by the discharge of a rocket. He was endeavoring to ignite it when it turned by some means, and striking him in the stomach, passed through his body.

A son of Mr Tyndale had his hands dreadfully lacerated by gunpowder; a young man named Bart, had his face severely runover by a railroad car and dreadfully mutilated.

Numerous fights and outraged occurred in the course of the day, and an attempt was made at suicide.

~~Mass.~~ in Fall River, Mass. We understand that George Sampson, blacksmith of Fall River, was murdered yesterday, by a man by the name of Reed, about 6 or 10 feet on the Mass. side; the particulars are briefly these:- It seems that Sampson had repaired a gun for Reed. A dispute arose in the settlement of the account, when it is stated, that Sampson kicked or struck Reed, when the latter gave him two stabs in the side with a knife, which caused his death almost immediately. Reed has been arrested. Providence Chronicle 7th inst.

Sad Accident Three Females Drowned. A party of 6 persons, consisting of 3 males and 3 females, started from the foot of Gouverneur Street, New York, for Beach Grove, Williamsburgh, in a sail boat, last evening, on a bathing party. On their passage they came in contact with one of the ferry boats, by which the whole party were thrown into the water. One of the females, Sarah Ann Rogers, was picked up at the foot of Houston Street and died shortly after; the bodies of the other two, Eliza Martin and Priscilla Williams, have not been found. The three men saved themselves by swimming to the shore.

Melancholy Accident A distressing and fatal accident occurred at Cincinnati, Ohio, on the 4th inst. The Gazette says "as a carriage with a party of females were approaching the Newport ferry boat, the tongue broke, frightened the horse so as to put them beyond the control of the driver. They dashed on the boat and jumped off of it, precipitating a lady and 3 children into the river. Capt Daxon, and the engineer of the ferry boat, by great presence of mind succeeded in saving 3 of the females, but one of the number, Miss Henrietta Smith, aged 13 was drowned. Her body was raised about one hour after the accident, but all efforts to restore her to life failed".

Storm at Rochester and Death. The Rochester Evening Post says - The rain poured down in torrents on Friday afternoon and during the night - accompanied by thunder and lightning. Tuesday July 26, 1842

Last evening Cornelius Emans, an aged and respectable resident of Grovesend, called at the store of his son in law, Martin Schoonmaker, and feeling unwell, procured and took a dose of paregoric - as he supposed. In a few moments he complained of a peculiar sensation, hoarseness in his throat, etc. and requested Mr Schoonmaker to examine and see if he had not given him a different article from what was intended - when to his horror, he discovered that he had made the mistake of dealing out Laudanum to his father in law! He immediately called in 3 or 4 physicians, but notwithstanding every exertion was used, the unfortunate man expired early this morning.

An old man by the name of John Sadsbury, living in the Eastern part of the county of New Hanover, N.C., was shot dead on the 14th inst., whilst sitting in his house. The deceased was upwards of 70 years old, and blind. Suspicion attached to his own son, to whom he had made over a large sum of money to protect it from the result of a lawsuit, in which he had become involved. The coroner's inquest declared the son to be the murderer.

Murder at Philadelphia. A broker, named Noah Lougee, who kept an office in Third Street, was stabbed to the heart yesterday morning about 6 o'clock, by a person who entered the premises for the supposed purpose of robbing him. The assassin immediately fled, but was pursued and captured, after a severe chase, in the fourth story of a neighboring warehouse. On being arrested, he gave his name as "Smith" but subsequently stated it to be Milton J Alexander. He is said to be a tall, well dressed young man, a Southerner, and apparently about 25 years of age. The dagger with which he had effected the murder was found, and on searching him, after his arrest, a sheath fitting the dagger, was also found upon his person. The murder, therefore seems to have been premeditated. Lougee was about 48 years of age, and has left a wife and 4 children. He was the only broker that opened his office so early an hour

A Sailor's Funeral on Shore One Sunday afternoon our attention was drawn with lively interest to a funeral procession of the sailors of the Brandywine Frigate, following to its last earthly resting place the body of one of their messmates, who had struck his flag to the grim tyrant Death, the night previous. The procession was headed by the fine band of music of the Brandywine, in uniform, playing the solemn, but simple dirge of the Sicilian Mariner's Hymn; next followed about 20 colored sailors, then the hearse, covered with the U S Naval ensign, following which were about 200 seamen, marching two and two; all fine looking fellows and remarkably clean and neatly clad in their simple uniform of blue cloth roundabouts, white linen trousers and glazed hats. But what most deserved attention was their orderly deportment, and staid and serious behaviour, not an instance of levity, did we remark in the whole procession or demeanor of any sort unsuited to the solemnity of the occasion. As the term of their enlistment had expired, they were not amenable to the discipline of the ship; and this mark of respect to their deceased shipmate was a spontaneous movement, arranged and directed by themselves. The name of the deceased was Lewis A. Berrington, a native of Ireland, but hailed from Boston, where he has left a wife and children; Norfolk Herald 2nd instant.

Coroner's Inquest The Coroner held an inquest yesterday at the house 104 Washington Street on the body of a Scotch woman named Catherine Bottell, (Bontell) aged 30, wife of William Bontell. It appeared in evidence that the deceased was near her accouchement and had been in good health up to Saturday evening when she complained of a violent pain in the stomach, which she thought arose from drinking cold water during the day, while overheated. She continued complaining at intervals until 10 o'clock yesterday, when she suddenly expired in a fit. Verdict of the jury - death by apoplexy.

Melancholy Suicide

Miss Catherine Ackerson, a very respectable young lady, about 17 years of age, residing with her mother at 129 Hammond St., put an end to her existence Saturday night, by drowning herself in a cistern. The cause of this sad occurrence is said to have been disappointment in love. It appears that a young man, named Thomas Eldridge, after having for a long time paid his addresses to her, and as she informed her family, proposed to marry her, about the middle of May last, discontinued his visits to her and devoted his attention to another young lady, since which deceased has been very dejected, and at one time soon after attempted to destroy herself by taking laudanum. Eldridge denies even having promised to marry her, but says that they had conversation upon the subject from which she possibly, she may have inferred that he intended to do so. She had addressed him notes on different occasions, requesting an interview, to which he paid no attention. For the last 2 weeks deceased has been much more depressed in spirits than before, and on Thursday last, was overheard to exclaim "To think that I must die for such a villain", and then address her Maker in horrible prayer, in both his or her own behalf. On Saturday night her mother, having occasion to go to market, requested deceased to accompany her, which however, she declined doing and then the mother returned about 10 o'clock, deceased had left the house, and after searching the premises through in vain, she was finally fished from the bottom of the cistern. Dr Miller was immediately called in and applied the usual remedies to resuscitate her, but to no purpose. The Coroner yesterday held an inquest on the body, and the jury found that death had been caused by drowning in a cistern. A voluntary act of self destruction. Express.

Two men killed by lightning Early on Thursday morning, 3 Germans, named Michael Myer, John Petrie of 197-2nd St and Francis Sombris of 239-3d St left their homes in company, and went about 3 miles beyond Harlem bridge into Westchester County for the purpose of picking berries. About 11:30 a thunder shower came on and they took shelter under a tree, which was struck by lightning almost immediately after and the three unfortunate men were struck senseless to the ground. Sombris, however, soon recovered his sense, when he saw with astonishment his companions lying dead (beside) by his side. He said that he had no knowledge of the cause of their death. At first, so powerful was the effect of the shock upon him, and his first thought on seeing them lying thus dead upon the ground was that they had killed each other. The bodies were on Thursday brought to the city for interment; an inquest having been held on the spot and they have each left a wife and several small children to deplore their shocking death. Sombris is likely to recover, though he is said to be very seriously injured. Express.

Horrid Murder William Kopman of Fulton, Ark. was murdered at Batson's stand, Humphreys Co., Tenn., while on his way to Winchester on the 2nd ult. He was known to have several thousand dollars in his possession. A reward of $500 has been offered for the discovery of the murder. The Fort Pickering Eagle gives the following particulars: Mr Kopman put up at Col Hunt's, 11 miles east of Waverly on Monday night, Aug 1; he left there next morning after breakfast, and a few hours afterwards his horse returned to Hunt's stripped of saddle, bridle, etc. On Thurs eve. the 3d of Aug. he was found about 4 miles from Hunt's some 20 steps from the road. The next day a jury of inquest was held over his body, and the verdict of the jury was, that he came to his death by the discharge of a large pistol, riddle or yager, the ball of which took effect in the head, greatly fracturing the skull by some person to them unknown. He was buried near the place where he was found, on the road side. Search was then made by the jury and persons present for his saddle, bags, hat, which were found 3 or 4 yards from the road. A man by the name of Joseph Stalcoop is suspected of having committed the murder. He staid at Hunt's on Sunday night. He said he was from Washington, and Kopman saw his name on the register and said, he knew him. The same man was supposed to have been seen sitting on the roadside where Kopman was murdered on Monday eve. Some persons think they saw Stalcoop pass from the Nashville road 5 or 6 miles from this place on Tues. eve - his yager rendered him rather more conspicuous than he would have been, almost every person that saw him being attracted by it. Several persons have gone in pursuit for him.

Since writing the above, we learn that Stalcoop has been arrested and brought back. Also that when he arrived at Hunt's he remarked to Hunt, "You say I am the murderer, you d-- d Villain. You are the murderer, sir". We also learn that Hunt is under arrest. Suspicion was roused against Hunt for the circumstances of the deceased's horse finding his way back to his table, and he saying nothing about it for two or three days until the murder was known.

The Hon Jeremiah Smith died at Dover N.H. on the 21st inst in the 83rd year of his age. He was representative in Congress from N.H. as early as 1791 - more than half a century ago. He continued a member until 1799, and was probably about the last survivor of those distinguished men whose fortune it was to participate with Washington in the administration of the government. He was Governor of the State in 1809, and for many years Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

The distinguished individual, whose demise is thus noticed by the Plabian, was one of the most ~~prominent~~ eminent men of which, N.H. can boast. He resided during the greater part of his life in the town of Exeter and is identified with our earliest recollections as the "venerable old gentleman with the white head." About 20 years ago he retired from the bar and from all active participation in business retaining merely a couple of formal posts to which his name was indispensable. He was President of the Exeter Bank for many years, and for more than a century a prominent member of the Board of Trustees of Philips Academy, in that town. Possessed of superior talents, probity, integrity, an unbounded philanthropy, which latter quality his wealth enabled him to indulge, he was universally esteemed and respected, and his death will be long and deply deplored. His remains were taken to Exeter for interment.

(Amalgamation omit) Melancholy suicide Isaac Webb Esq formerly an attorney, but for some years owner and teacher of the school formerly under the charge of Capt Partridge, left his residence suddenly on Thurs., and went on board the steamer coming from Hartford to N.Y., where he was recognized by several several acquaintances. During the night, however, he was missed and has not since been seen. His hat was found on board and in it a letter addressed to his brother at Middletown, enclosing an article of jewelry. What was written in the letter is not yet known to us. The manner of his disappearance at Middletown, connected with some strange indications in his conduct just before, had alarmed his family, so that search was made for him before it was certainly known that he came away in the boat. Mr Webb was in easy circumstances and highly respected by all his acquaintances. Journal of Commerce

More Indian Murders The Florida papers contain accounts of other Indian outrages, which would seem to show that the war has little more than formally closed, at best.

The St Augustine News received by the Southern mail last night, confirms the report published a few days since, of the murder by the Indians of Mrs Crum. The News says:- Capt William W Tucker arrived in this City on Thursday last from the Chucsahttee settlement. He confirms the report of the murder of Mrs Crum. Capt Tucker is also a son in law of Mrs Crum. The old lady had been spending some time with him, and left to visit Mr Horn at Tochatka. On the 12th of Sept whilst she was returning from the latter place, accompanied by Mr. McDonald and Mer. Hern and daughter, they were fired upon by the Indians. Mr McDonald, who was driving the carriage which contained Mrs Crum and the little girl, received a severe wound, but made his escape by concealing himself in a hammock. Mrs Hern who was riding on horseback, about 50 yards ahead of the carriage, succeeded in taking her daughter, upon the horse and made her escape whilst the Indians were murdering Mrs Crum. Whole Family Poisoned. We have not read of a more dreadful calamity than that detailed by a recent number of Grenada Mass. Register. The paper informs us the whole family of Mr Morehead, residing near the Yazoo Pass, having been poisoned by eating peaches dried on a painted board. One of his daughters, was to have been married on the very day she was so suddenly taken from earth. The marriage clothes were sent home as the funeral bier was preparing and a cloud of woe dimmed the new blest hopes of the partner of her bosom. The eldest son, prostrated on a bed of death, had just returned from a 5 years study in the learned cloisters of the old Harvard, crowned with his laurel wreaths of honor and glory. Death spread his banners o'er the whole. Mother, father, son, daughter now sleep the sleep of death stretched side by side and wrapped in the cold embraces of the cold earth.

Melancholy suicide We regret to announce the painful intelligence that Passed Assistant Surgeon Richard W Leacock of the U S Brig Somers, who recently appeared as a conspicuous witness, to the case of Mackenzie, terminated his existence at 6 o'clock last eve by shooting himself over his right eye with a pistol. The fatal act was committed in the gun room of the Somers, to which vessel he had been attached since he was first commissioned. He was 28 years of age; native Norfolk, Va. He was an excellent officer. He was an irreproachable character and was much beloved by his brother officers. The unfortunate occurrence is attributed to his having contracted the yellow fever, on a former cruise in the U S Schooner Shark, which left him in a very debilitated state. Plebian.

Death of a Revolutionary Soldier. Peter Brown died a few days since, at Pittsburgh, aged 105 years. He was a native of France, came to this country with General Lafayette and fought in several battles during the Revolutionary War Murder A mother and her 5 children cruelly murdered by an extra from the office of the Butler Pa Herald, we learn that a most shocking and brutal murder was committed in Slipperyrock township, Butler County on Sat last, the 1st inst by an Indian called Samuel Mohawk. The following are the particulars of the horrible tragedy. James Wigton had left his house early in the morning, for the purpose of going to his father's to borrow a horse to sow corn, leaving his wife and 5 children at home. While he was absent, the Indian came there, and as appears from his confession, murdered Mrs Wigton and her five children by beating out their brains with stones. Mrs Wigton and the youngest child were not quite dead when first discovered.

The Indian then proceeded to a Mr Kennedy's house and made an attack on him and his family - injuring a son of Mr Kennedy very severely perhaps dangerously, by hitting him on the head with a large stone. After being driven off by Mr Kennedy, he next went to Mr Klester's where he was captured, after a desperate resistance, in which a man named Blair was severely injured. He was taken to Wigton's and confessed the murder and said he was sorry for it.

Mrs Wigton was about 35 years of age - the children - 3 girls and 2 boys - were aged about 11, 9, 5, 3, 1. The Indian is now in jail and will be tried at the Sept session. We understand that he lives in Cattaraugus County NY.

Accident and loss of life

The late heavy rains have greatly swollen the streams throughout this section of the country, and in some instances produced serious mischief. We hear of the case, which was accompanied with loss of life. On Sunday, the second day of the storm, Messrs Duncan and Humeston, who own a saw mill in a stream running through what is called Butt's Hollow, in the town of Washington, fearful of losing their dam, procured help and made an effort to save it. While engaged in removing obstructions and in labors to strengthen the dam, it was swept away by the flood and carried with it one of the workmen, a Mr. Joshua Goleby, who was borne down the stream and killed. His body at the date of our latest accounts had not been recovered. Poughkeepsie Journal.

Marriage in the Street We learn from the Missouri Courier, that on the 20th ult. Squire J F Mann linked with Miss Eliza Little to Mr Nelson Aubrey, in one of streets of Palmyra. The circumstances are a little romantic. It seems two families were traveling westward in company, with one of which was the fair lady, with the other the loving swain, who had concluded to marry. The old folks refused consent. They thus travelled on until the families with their wagons parted, each taking a different road, when the lady contrived to escape from her parent's wagon and follow that of her lover. On reaching the town, they jumped out of their wagon, called for the Squire, hitched traces, and drove on their way rejoicing. The opposition of her parents had nearly driven the young lady to a state of distraction, so her lover drove her to the State of Illinois.

Tuesday December 12, 1843

On Sat. last Amos Parsons, while engaged in drawing logs at Pond Brook, 8 miles north of this village, was killed. He and his son were rolling logs down a steep bank and it became necessary to throw one of them in advance of the other, in order to avoid a stump, which stood below. The father went in the lower side, and held one end stationary, while the son threw the other around, as was wished. The father then, as he was moving out of the way of the log, reached to grasp a bush to steady himself, which unfortunately was cut off from the root. He thus lost his balance and fell and the log in its precipitous descent passed over and crushed him. He lived about two hours. He was a very respectable man, 40 years old, and left a wife and 13 children in poverty. Binghamton Courier. Dec. 9.

Death of Colonel William L Stone. Col. William L. Stone for 20 years past editor-in-chief of the Commercial

Advertiser, died at the residence of his father-in-law in the village of Saratoga Springs on Thursday last ~~(aged in 22/yr)~~. The following notice, probably from the pen of Major Noah - is taken from the Sun:-

Colonel Stone has filled a considerable space in the newspaper history and general literature in the country. He was born on Sodus Bay in this State, and his father was a Soldier of our Revolutionary War. He was apprenticed at an early age to the Freeman's Journal at Cooperstown N Y. It ought to be known to all who desire to pursue a career of letters, that Col. Stone owed much of his literary reputation to commencing very early in life as a writer. He was an editor of capacity, and familiar with all the important political questions agitating the country. At the age of 17, he edited a paper at Hudson with admitted ability at that age. After the war, Mr Dwight, at present one of the oldest living Editors, retired from the Commercial Mirror, and was succeeded by Colonel Stone. He conducted that paper at Hartford, for 2 or 3 years with great success and then to Albany - attended himself to the Daily Advertiser until Zachariah Lewis retired from the Commercial and Colonel Stone succeeded him, which paper he has since conducted with equal reputation, and in many respects with decided talent.

Colonel Stone, in addition to the heavy labor of conducting a daily paper, was a hard student and an author of decided reputation. Among several works of merit, his Life of Brandt, the Indian Chief, gives him a high rank as an able historian. He was attached to the staff of the late Gen. Bogardus, as Deputy Quarter Master General, and at the time, of his death, filled the important and honorable office of Supt. of Common Schools for the city and county of New York. His bereaved widow is the daughter of President Wayland; their family consists of an only child, a boy, now about 12 years of age. Col. Stone was an agreeable, gentlemanly man, uniformly kind and well disposed, free from bad feelings, a good friend, a useful citizen, and a man of sincere and unaffected piety. Society sustains a loss in the death of such a citizen.

Thursday September 5, 1844

Death of Senator Fulton. We regret to announce the demise of the distinguished gentleman on the 15th of Aug. at Rosewood, near Little Rock, Ark. The following biographical sketch is from the Little Rock Gazette.

Governor Fulton was a native of Maryland, and during the late war, took part in some of the battles fought in that State. He afterwards moved to Tenn. and became the private secretary of General Jackson, during the campaign. Upon the close of the war, he (resided) - settled in the norther part of Ala., where he resided for many years, until the elevation of his illustrious friend to the President of the Union. He soon after received the appointment of Secretary of the Ark. Territory, under Gov. Pope of Kentucky. After Gov Pope's term of service expired, he was appointed to fill the vacancy by Gen Jackson, and presided over the Territory as Governor, until we were admitted into the Union, when he was chosen, by the first Legislature, that met under our State government, as one of our Senators in Congress. This distinguished station he continued to fill until the day of his death, having been re-elected in 1840.

Four men killed. We are called upon to record the most frightful accident that ever occurred upon this road. The boiler of the engine burst last night at 9 o'clock, about two miles from Reading, instantly killing Hosesph Ward, engineer, James McCabe, Conductor, Frank Tye and Peter Mahan, firemen, whose lifeless bodies were found several jours after, in a frightful state of mutilation in a field near by, in which lay also the boiler which had been torn from the wheels with irresistible force and buried from the bed and wheels of the engine, which were entirely demolished.

The watch in Mr McCabe's pocket was found to have stopped 20 minutes after 9, and from this circumstance, this accident must have occurred at that hour last night. At the time of the accidentl the train was under full headway and the explosion must have been as instantaneous as it was fatal. It was running in abundance and vivid flashes of lightning were playing in the heavens, and it is supposed that a heavy bolt of electricity, struck the engine. It must have been caused by lightning as all circumstances prove that no to other cause can it be attributed.

Suicide of a Clergyman. The Rev Ebenezer Patrick, a worthy and eloquent minister of the Methodist Church attached to the Indiana Conference, recently committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor at Princeton in that State. The deceased has been seriously ill of fever, and had, on the day named, rose from his bed, made for the street and secured a horse, on which he attempted to escape, evidently laboring under a fit of temporary insanity. He was instantly pursued, secured, and brought in his house, and one of his sons appointed to superintend his wants. After a while his mind seemed to be tranquil, and he requested his son to leave him, as he desired to rest, being then in bed. While left alone only a few minutes, he managed to secure a razor, with which he inflicted a mortal wound in his throat and died from its effects in about an hour afterwards.

Found guilty of the murder. Alfred Hill of N.H. has been found guilty of murder in the second degree in causing the death of Ellen Delano, an orphan girl 8 yrs old apprenticed to him by the supt. of the poor. He was sentenced at Exeter on Thursday to 30 days solitary confinement and hard labor in the State Prison during life.

A man named James Bryce, 60 yrs old, who had been committed to the City Prison on Sunday, was yesterday found dead in his cell. His death was attributed to dysentery.

At the early hour of 3 o'clock Monday morning the neighborhood of Five Points were alarmed by the cries of a female proceeding from the house at 86 Cross St., kept by Mrs McIntyre, where a man named William Quinn, resided. A woman, named Susan Harris, who resided in the same tenement, went into Quinn's room. Harriet Fletcher, a girl with whom he cohabited lying senseless on the floor. Imagining that she had fainted, she went below and asked Mrs McIntyre for some vinegar and they both went up together and found Quinn there and the girl dead. An alarm was given and the body removed to the Dead House in the park where a post mortem examination was made, but the inquest deferred to Tuesday. A quantity of coagulated blood was found in the region of the brain and the body was in a most dreadfully bruised state. Tribune.

Thursday September 12, 1844

The Edgefield S C Advertiser says: It is our painful duty to record a tragical scene which occurred in the town on Monday last. After the sheriff's sales were over and whilst a considerable crowd remained about the steps of the Court House, a fight ensued between Joseph Glover and Lovett Gommillion, which terminated in the death of Mr Glover.

Both parties it seems were armed and fired pistols at each other, the first time without either being materially injured. Mr Gommillion with his second pistol shot Mr Glover in the right breast, which killed him instantly. Mr G immediately surrendered himself to an officer. We regret to say, that our friend Col Wm H Moses / in attempting to prevent the affair, was severely shot by one of the parties in the neck and shoulders.

Death in the Army. The Natchitoches, La Chronicle 24th ult notices the burial of Major Muhlenberg of the USA who died at Grand Ecore. His remains were escorted into Natchitoches on the 23d by the 4th Regt of Inf., making a solemn as well as an imposing view. It is said that the deceased acted with a great gallantry during the last war in the defense of Plattsburg and was brevetted . He served afterwards with distinction under Gen Jackson in Florida. The deceased was a brother of Mr Muhlenberg late Democratic candidate for Governor of Pa.

Drowned. Near Shreveport La week before last Mr Battle father of the Editor of the Caddo Gazette, with one of his slaves, met with a most melancholy death. It seems that Mr Battle having cast some watermelons into a well for the purpose of cooling them, fancied on reflection, that the water was rendered foul by it, and sent a negro down to inspect and clear the well. The negro fell out of the bucket in descending and his master hurried down to his assistance, when, awful to relate he also was precipitated into the water. They were both drowned. It appears that the well was indeed foul, but it was from the accumulation of mephitic vapor, which alternately overpowered both.

Committed for murder. Alderman Rees has lodged commitments against William and Edward Ryninger now in prison, charging them with the murder of Samuel H Huble on Tues. last. The further hearing of the case has been postponed until Monday next.

Samuel G Martin, Chief Engineer of J K Wing's steam-flouring mill in this village, met a most horrible death of Wed. last, by scalding. He had discovered a defect in the stop-cock of the pipe connecting the boilers and was engaged in repairing the difficulty when the plug blew out causing a violent discharge of hot water, which scalded his whole person. A difficulty lately occurred in Rankin Co., Miss. between Mr Lombard and Mr Wood, which resulted in the death of the former and wounding of his son. Mr Wood was residing upon a part of Mr Lombard's plantation without authority, had taken to remove a certain fence. Mr. Lombard, who had been long and favorably known as a peaceable and respectable citizen remonstrated Mr. Wood, who without provocation, shot him down. The son of Mr. L. immediately came to his assistance, and while raising up his father, Wood fired at him and wounded him in the thigh. He immediately mounted his horse and escaped. The father is dead, but the son is expected to survive. The Gov. of Mass has offered a reward of $300 for his apprehension of Wood.

Shocking murder. We received an extra last night from the Alton Telegraph, containing the particulars of a shocking and atrocious murder, committed in Greenfield township, 7 miles from Alton on the 4th inst. The murderer was a German, in good circumstances named Adam Feufield and the victims were Frederic Heinriche, his brother in law, Christine, his wife and Selina, his dau. Heinriche was murdered in a field where they had been at work together. He was found with his head mashed to pieces, evidently with a flail handle. His wife and child (a girl abt 12 yrs of age) were found in the cellar of his house, stabbed with a knife. Those acquainted with the parties imagine that Feufield had discovered an improper intimacy, real or supposed existing between his wife and her own brother, and that stung to madness, he committed the crime of putting to death his own wife and child and his wife's brother. Our readers have seen an account of the murder in Baltimore of a man named Paul Roux of Ga. in Nolan's Hotel, on Monday night, as was, supposed, by a man named Henry McCurry, in whose room Roux, on his arrival, was put to sleep. It appears that after the murder, McCurry, who is an Irishman, aged 26, locked the door of the room, took the key with him and went down to his breakfast.

He did not leave the City of Baltimore in til 8 o'clock in the eve. on the Phila. train. The room was forced open and the murder discovered about 8-1/2 o'clock Roux having his throat cut and his watch and money stolen.

A warrant insuing, officer Ridgely, of Baltimore, set out in pursuit of McC whom he found and arrested yesterday morning, near the stamboat landing and brining him to the Police officer. He was lodged in prison to be sent to Baltimore for trial. In possession of Mr C was found the gold watch of Roux, which he had purchased from Gelston & Treadwell of 1 Astor House a year or more since, and also the purse and other articles of Roux.

Since writing the foregoing account, McC cut his throat with a knife in the cell and is so badly injured, it is supposed he will not survive. Journal of Commerce.

The body of Roux was decently entered in the Cemetery near Baltimore by the Odd Fellows - to which fraternity there were evidence that he belonged.

Murder and confession. A shocking murder was perpetrated at New Haven, Conn on Tues last. The victim was Lucius P Osborn, who was found with his skull nearly bent to pieces and the murderers were Andrew Potter and a negro Oscar McGurley. The origin of the crime was a desire on the part of Potter. Potter was to obtain a gold watch for his mulatto mistress, which belonged to Osborn and in order that he might do so, he employed the negro, on a promise of $5 to commit the fatal act, which he did with a broken pike pole, having an iron point. The parties were to be examined today.

Melancholy suicide. A young gentleman, from Virginia, names James S Oleott, who was a student of medicine in this city, committed suicide yesterday, by hanging himself in his chamber, at his boarding house in Brooklyn. He was a young man of fine talents and education and most respectable connections and and the weakness of mind betrayed by the commission of the lamentable act which terminated his existence, arose, doubtless, from a her- viously acute sensibility, excited by unfortunate circumstances. It is due to his memory, as well as to his immediate friends, to state that a rumor, vruited last eve of his having been led to the perpetration of the fatal deed by a defection on a dishonorable transaction towards a fellow boarder is entirely without foundation. Morning News.

Monday March 3 1845

Coroner's Inquest Yesterday the Coroner and a highly respectable Jury, held an inquest upon the body of George W Robbins, First Lt. of the Marines, 34yrs old, who committed suicide on Friday last at the Naval Hospital by hanging himself, whilst temporarily deranged. The deceased was a nab of fine literary attainment - of most urbine and gentlemanly deportment and much beloved by all who knew him. The recent death of his father, the late highly esteemed Senator Robbins pf R I. has preyed so much upon his mind has not only to produce a settled melancholy, but to dethrone his reason; and it was whilst thus afflicted that - in the midst of usefulness, and in the prime of life, he cut himself off from the world.

Horrible and Fatal Accident. Various rumors were circulated last evening and this morning in relation to the death of Thomas Gaffield, a highly respectable and well known boot and shoemaker, formerly in business on Congress St., but who recently removed to Haverhill, the summer residence. He went to ride in a buggy with a William Edwards of Haverhill and it is supposed that the horse became frightened and backed off a bank, as the bodies of the 2 men were found at the bottom of the precipice, whence they had fallen together, the horse lying on top of them. The horse was apparently uninjured, but was entangled in the harness so as to be unable to get up. They have both left families. Mr. Gaffield was 53 yrs of age Mr. Edwards 40 yrs Boston Transcript of Apr 29

Death of Mr Francis Nowlan. Francis Nowland is dead - he died yesterday afternoon. Mr N kept a tavern, in which Paul Roux was murdered by Henry McKurry. It is in the memory of all, that he came in for a share of suspicion of being engaged in that murderous operation, but subsequently developments have proved that suspicion for the time took a wrong direction. The effect on his mind was such as to bring him to a bed of sickness, and he has been declining from that time until death relieved him. there is scarcely an individual, if indeed there is one, in this community, who believed he had the slightest cognizance of that transaction. He died an innocent man. We are told that he spoke to his friends up to Friday; when the published confession of Mr Curry was read to him, & he felt that injustice was done to him by the murderer on the gallows and he spoke no more, but breathed his last, without uttering a syllable. Mr N has been known in Baltimore and has always been the character of a most mild, amiable and unobtrusive man, against whom not a word of ill could be spoken. Baltimore Sun. July 1

Most Horrid Murder. A correspondent of the Nashville Banner, writing from Springfield, under date of August 19th, gives the following dreadful intelligence. On Sunday morning last a most barbarous murder was perpetrated abt 6 miles north of this place on the body of David Walton, a highly respectable citizen of this county, by two of his own slaves as is most confidently believed. The murder was committed in open day, within 300 ~~yards~~ yards of the dwelling of the deceased and the body thrown into a tree top at the same place where it was found about 11-12 o'clock at night. Two negroes, had gone out with him with axes, and when they returned they gave such excuses for the absence of their master - as induced the family to hope he was in the neighborhood. I assisted yesterday in the examination before a Justice Court and no doubt was entertained of the guilt of both the slaves - Ned and Peter - both young fellows - so they were committed to jail - awaiting their trial.

Melancholy. A party consisting of five residents of Flatlands, whose names are Elias H Hubbard, marshal for taking the recent census; Andrew Leake, Jacob Mather and his son; Wilson G Read, embarked on a fishing excursion in a small sailboat on Friday last. They had proceeded as far as Rockaway Beach and when the boat was in the act of tucking, about 5 o'clock, it capsized in consequence of all the occupants being on one side. Two of the party immediately disappeared and were lost. The remaining 3 clung to the bottom of the boat, but the water being rough, it kept turning over. After several revolutions 2 of them were washed off and drowned. The third, Mr Read, succeeded in holding on for some time longer, when he became detached from the boat and lost all consciousness. When he recovered, which was about 10 o'clock on Saturday, he found himself lying in Rockaway Beach, just out of the reach of the surf, having been thrown there, as he supposed about 2 O'clock in the morning. He was so completely bruised and exhausted that he lay unable to move for some hours, relapsing frequently into unconsciousness. He was at length discovered by some humane person, who took him in charge and administered the necessary attention, which his deplorable condition required. He is the only one saved out of the whole party, but he was in such an exhausted state that his life is almost despaired of.

Sudden and Distressing Bereavement. The numerous friends of David Henderson of Jersey City, will learn with deep anguish that his existence has suddenly terminated by an appalling accident on Wed. last at Adirondack, Essex Co NY. Mr Henderson went out with persons in his employment, to explore one of the sprouts of the Hudson River with the view of the construction of a dam. One of the men, shot a duck with a revolving pistol, which he laid down to go after his game. Mr Henderson took up the pistol, which is supposed to have been cocked, and either in raising it, ~~as~~ or as one of the men thinks, in laying it down, it accidentally discharged itself, the ball entering Mr Henderson's side and passing upwards through the heart, occasioned immediate death.

Mr Henderson though a native of Scotland, had resided many years in America. He married the eldest daughter of Archibald McIntyre and resided with his accomplished family in Jersey City. Evergreen Cemetery. Albany Atlas Saturday

Death of John Hampden Pleasants Esq We copy the following from Wash. Union of Friday.

We hear with profound regret of the death of John Hampden Pleasants Esq of Richmond, who breathed his last in that City yesterday. We regret, on every account, both the death of this gentleman and the manner of it. He fell near Manchester, on the banks of James River, opposite to Richmond, very early on Wed. in an unfortunate encounter, with one who is related to the Editor of this paper by the tenderest ties.

Mr Pleasants has edited the Lynchburg Virginian for several years until the Winter of 1823-4, when he established the "Richmond Whig" one of the strongest papers in the South. He left that journal a few weeks since, when he associated himself in the editorship of the "Richmond Star". He was a gentleman of brilliant talents - one of the best writers in Virginia and an able, experienced and ardent politician.

From the Brooklyn Daily Advertiser of Feb. 27th.

It is with the deepest pain, we ~~also~~ announce that William B Marsh Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30. aged 33yrs 6m He had been confined to a bed of the most painful sickness for 2 weeks and for the past 6 days his spirit had been lingering between time and eternity. His loss will be long and deeply felt by a large number of our citizens, to whom his open, frank, and manly course, in the conduction conducting of the "Eagle" had endeared him. But none can regret his loss more than ourselves, his widow and her little ones. To them the loss would indeed be irreparable, but that He who giveth and taketh away hath said - "I will be a father to the fatherless, and a husband to the widow" He "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb."

Suicide. The Nashville Ten.. Whig of the 21st ult says A B King, who has for sometime past been employed in the general stage office in this City, suddenly disappeared Wed morning and has not since been heard of. His cap was picked up in the river by one of the hands on board the "Old Hickory", which lies at the lower wharf. It was perforated by a pistol ball and had some black hair sticking in it. The inference is that he went to the bridge, got into one of the windows and shot himself in the head. He was last seen about sunrise yesterday morning.
