Will of Timothy Conklin of Huntington.

In the name of God Amen; This 30th day of December 1734-35 I, Timothy Conkline of Huntington in the county of Suffolk on the Island of Nassau in the Province of New York, Husbandman, being very sick and weak in body but of perfect mind and memory thanks be given to God therefore. Calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this to be my last will and Testament, that is to say. Principally and first of all I give and recommend my soul to the hands of God that gave it and my body I recommend to the Earth to be buried in decent Christian burial at the discretion of my executors. Nothing doubting but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God, and as touching such worldly estate, where with it hath pleased God to bless me in this life, give, demise and dispose of the same in the following manner: From Imprimus: I give and bequeath to my beloved wife Abigail, to her heirs and assigns, the choice of my beds and bedding and also the sum of eleven pounds current money of New York to be made out of my moveable estate. Item: I give and bequeath unto my son Timothy, living on the main shore, the sum of Five shillings. Item: I give and bequeath to my grandson Jacob Conklin the sum of three pounds to be made out of my moveable estate to be improved by interest till he comes of age. Item: I give and bequeath to my daughter Mary Wickes the sum of five pounds current money of New York. Item: I give and bequeath to my son David Conklin, to him, his heirs and assigns, my team and tackling for husbandry and further it is my will and pleasure that all the above mentioned legacies and bequests be made and paid out of my moveable estate, my just debts being first paid and if then anything remains, it is my wish that the remainder should be divided between my daughters Elizabeth Rogers, Sarah Ketcham and Mary Wickes, upon equal shares and proportions. Item: I give and bequeath unto my son Thomas Conklin, to him and his assigns forever, my home lott where I now dwell on the east side of Rhode, with all buildings thereon and appurtenances thereunto belonging, he being obliged to allow Abigail, my wife the liberty and command of my south dwelling room so long as she continues my widow if she sees fit to improve it. Item: I give and bequeath to my son Stephen Conklin, to him and his heirs and assigns forever, ten acres of land which hath taken up of my right above Cow Harbor, and also twelve pounds current money to be paid him, six pounds by my son

Sarah Conkling of Southold.
mar. John Laughlin or Layton of Southampton
July 28, 1680

Son of                    An order of the Court of Sessions held at    1st John                    Southold:

Wherein Letters of Administration are granted to John Conklin, by the court.

At a court of sessions held in Southton Nov. 16 by his majesties authority in the 18th yeare of the Raigne of our soverange Lord Charles the 2nd, by the Grace of God of Great Britain and France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith etc. anno Domini 1665. Whereas--John Conklin Junior of Hashammamock, neare South Hold on Long Island, in ye Eastside thereof, did intermarry with the Relict Widdow of William Salmon, late of Southold aforesaid deceased. Namely Sarah, with whom he left six orphans, four of which he had by Katherine, his former wife and two by Sarah, the said Katherine having formerly been the wife of Matthew Sunderland a seaman who formerly improved some point of Hashammanock aforesaid, as an agent to Mr. James F. Farrat, Deputy to the Earle of Sterling on Long Island aforesaid, of whom he purchased several necks of one on ye eastside, another on the west side of Oyster Bay and also an Island not farre from the same, all which fell to his said wife Katherine after his decease for her maintenance, having very little to leave to her livelyhood and for as much as Hashammanock aforesaid being the place of their residence and never under any jurisdiction until his majesties later letters patent given to his Royal Highness, James, Duke of Yorke, were published on this Island. Therefore the said John Conkline in right to Sarah his now wife, and the said six orphans doth humbly petition this Honorable Court that letters of administration may be granted unto him, so as he may be legally invested in the thirds of all the estate the said William Salmon died seised and possessed of in right his said wife, and of the other two thirds part thereof in right of the said six orphans for their education and provision of portions as they come of age. All which being considered by the Court they saw just grounds to grant the petition of the said John Conklin and give to letters of administration, accordingly and in pursuance thereof the said Court doth hereby fully and absolutley impower the said John Conklin with the letter of administration in its behalf of his said wives right in relation to one third portion of all the personal and real estate of the said William Salmon deceased and of the other two thirds parts thereof also in relation to the said six orphans in manner as aforesaid, provided never the less that he the said administrator put in sufficient security to pay the said orphans their respective portions as they shall attain their several and respective ages, according to law for receipt therof and from time to time observe such further order in and about the same as the court shall see cause to make in the premises, which obligation is to be entered forthwith before the next Justice of the Peace in the East Siding aforesaid. By order of the Court, Jonas Holdsworth, Clerk of the Sessions in the Eastriding.

Whereas, John Conkline of Hashammock, near Southold in the East Riding of Yorkshire up the Long Island having married ye widdow and relict of William Salmon who had divers young children of whom the said John Conkline hath had a great care and been at considerable charge in bringing them up and he having sued for letters of administration of the Estate of the said William Salmon deceased, which at the Court of Sessions held in the month of November in the year of 1665, were granted unto him provided he gave security to be responsible for the said Estate according to laws which accordingly he hath done. There are to certify that the said John Conklin is admitted and confirmed to all interests, and purposes to be administrator of the goods and chattels and what nature or kind soever heretofore belonging or anyway appertaining unto the aforesaid William Salmon, deceased and the said John Conklin hath hereby full powers and lawful authority to enter into or keep possession of the premises and to dispose thereof as administration by the laws of this Government are allowed to do. Sealed with the seal of the office and dated at New York this 19th day of March in the year of his Majesties Reign anno domini 1666. Mathias Nicolls Secr.

At a court sessions held for the East Riding of Yorkshire at South Hold on the 5th day of June 1666 by his majesties authority in the 19th year of the raigne of our Sovereigne Lord Charles the 2nd. By the Grace of God of Great Britain ffrance and Ireland, King, Defender of the faith, etc. whereas: John Conklin Junior of Hashamamock neare South-Hold petitioned to the Court of Sessions held at Southton for the Eastriding of Yorkshire in November last past concerning the disposing and settling of the estate of William Salmon, late of SouthHold aforesaid deceased to Sarah, his Relict Widdow and six orphans i.e. one sonne and five daughters. In order whereunto letters of administration were granted to him in right of his sd wife and the aforesaid six orphans and foure of the overseers of the said place (namely Barnabas Winnes, Thomas Terry, Richard Terry and Thomas Hutchinson) were desired by the Court to take an inspection into the said estate, who after they had perused the inventory formerly taken of the said estate with respect to the expense, losse and damage which came upon it said estate before it came into the hands of the sd. John Conklin, found that the eldest sonnes portion came to 315.4 D and the other five children's portions came to each child 15 L. 15.5. 8 D yet they did not allow the sd. John Conlinge anything for bringing up of the yhounge children, but left it to the court to grnt him such an allowance, as they should judge meet (as appears to the ;court by a writing under their hands) upon consideration whereof the court doth order that the aforesaid John Conkline (having put in security so the next justic eof the peace) pay to the five of the aforesaid children of the said William Salmon: Viz.

John, Sarah, Rebecca, and Elizabeth Salmon the summe of eighty foure pounds in manner and proportion as followeth: To John Salmon 28 L when he comes to be 21 years of age and to each of the aforesaid foure daughters 14 L when (or as) they shall come to be 18 yeares of age (the eldest daughter, namely Mary) having already received her portion) provided that they and every of them aforesaid as they come to this age and receive the portions doe acquit, exonerate and discharge the sd. John Conklin and his heirs, executors, and administrators of and forever all and singular their respective parts and portions of their aforesaid ffather's estate, and of their right and title thereunto and in the meantime they are to remain in obedience to the said John Conklin and the said Sarah, wife, until they accomplish their respective ages according to the law in the case provided.

By order of the Court

Will of Marah Conkling-b. 1676-widow of Lewis, died Nov.

15, 1752

In the name of God Amen: The fifteenth day of August in the year of our Lord 1747: I, Marah Conkling of the town of East Hampton in the County of Suffolk and Province of New York, widow and relict of Luis Conkling, late, of said place deceased, being in health of body and of perfect mind and memory thanks be to God, but calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to dye, do make and ordain this my last will and Testament: That is to say, principally and first of all I give and recommend my soul unto the hands of God that gave it, and my body I recommend to the earth to be buried in decent Christian burial at the discretion of my executors, nothing doubting but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the might of God: and as touching such worldly estate as it hath pleased God to bless me in this life, I give and demise and dispose of the same in the following manner and form. Imprimus: I give and bequeath to my beloved son Sineus Conkling all my team and tackling and husbandry tools of all sorts, and my press and all belonging to the same, my loom and loom tackling: Secondly: I give to my four grandchildren, namely, William, Zebedy, Abraham and Elizabeth Pierson each five pounds to be paid them by my executors when they come to lawfull age: Thirdly, I give to my two grandchildren Chrystophar and Sineas Dibble each ten pounds to be paid them when they come to lawfull age, by my executors: Fourthly; I give to my four grandchildren namely, Daniel, Luis and John Miller, twenty pounds to be equally divided between them, to be paid them by my executors as they come to lawfull age. My will further is that after all my debts and legacies, funeral and necessary charges be paid, the remainder of my estate be divided into six parts, my dafters now living, namely, Easter, Zeremiah and Abigail have each a sixth part to be equally divided between them. My grandchildren, namely Christophar and Sineas Dibble, a sixth part to be equally divided betwixt them, my grandchildre, namely, Daniel, Luis and John Miller a sixth part, to be equally divided betwixt them. Further, my will is that what I have given to my grandchildren be improved at interest by my executors for the benefit of said children until they come of age. Lastly I do hereby nominate and appoint my beloved son Sineas Conklin and trusty friend Burnett Miller to be executors to this, my last will and testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year above written.

Benjamin Conkling.

In Memory of Benjamin Conkling who died Feb. 21, 1826 aged 82. It is but justice to the character of Mr. Conkling to say that he was an obliging neighbor, in his habits industrious.

In his dealings honest. He liberally aided the cause of virtue and religion and in his last moments bequeathed a large proportion of his property to the Presbyterian Church and Congregation of Shelter Islnd for the support of the Gospel.

Inscription on Tombstone in Shelter Island.

In the name of God Amen: I, Joseph Conklin, being sick in body, yet of a sound mind and perfect understanding and memory: do make this my last will and testament: Imprimus: I give to my cozen Jeremiah Havens all my moveable estate, goods, chattels and personal estate, after payment of my debts and funeral charges to him and his heirs forever, and I also make the said Jeremiah Havens my sole executor of this my last will and testament. Item: I give my negro wench Maria her time and also I give to Marria her daughter Cloe during her natural life. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 30th day of September and in the year of our Lord one thousand and seven hundred and eighty.
Sealed, published and declared by the above named Joseph

Joseph Inglis Conklin, Jr.'s Genealogy

The writer has made a long and exhaustive study of the origin, family and name of Conklin. After many years of almost constant labor, he is now able to submit to those bearing the name, what seems to him to be a reasonable and doubtless approximately true account as to how and when the name originated. And what circumstances or causes led to the name being adopted by your earliest ancestors and handed down for centuries without any change other than the spelling of the same.

We frequently find in the same family some use more, other less letters. Still the sound is the same. Therefore the spelling is of no material consequence other than what it was probably intended for, to distinguish one family from another, where the same were numerous settled in the same locality and could be in this way only separated. It is probably for this reason that we find the name spelled in the following various ways, Conklin, Conclin, Concklin, Conkling, Conckling, Conklyn Conkline, Conklynne, Conkland and many other combinations that have no apparent meaning other than that above stated. In every case we find in tracing back, all originated from the same source, and in many cases we find in the same family, parents and their children, spelling the name differently, particularly so in Wills, Transfers of real estate and other records. In several instances we find the same person spelling his or her name differently in the same document. Another reason assigned for this is, that most all the wills, deed and other documents of the times were written by the pastor of the church or if a lawyer was obtainable, his services were called in, but the legal fraternity were not as numerous then as now and it usually fell to the lot of the minister of the church, and so long as the proper idea was conveyed, the spelling was of no consequence.

At the present time when Christian names are more freely distributed, and with a greater variety to select from than in the early times of the family, the name has gradually been brought somewhat nearer to its original manner of spelling or as it arrived in Salem, Mass. from England in the year 1638.

During the first 100 years of their residence in the colonies, their names were, except in a few cases, transmitted from father to son. Thus we find among the first settlers, John, Ananias, Cornelius, Benjamin, Joseph, etc. John had a son John, Ananias had a son Ananias. And all these sons in turn named their first sons after them, thus creating for their posterity to unravel, a confusion of Johns, Ananiases and many others of a similar character that only a familiarity borne of constant application to the solution of the subject, and a careful separation of dates found in the records of the family, has enabled us to bring order out of chaos, and place before our "brethern of the kin", and our posterity in general, the result of our labors.

Of course we do not mean to say that this record is absolutely correct, but we do say that so far as it relates to the dates of births, marriages and deaths, it is as nearly so as possible, considering the lapse of time, loss of records and other accidents impossible to overcome in a work of this kind. Like all others, we must accept from the legends of old, where the name originated, and give a reasonable explanation therefore.

Tradition has handed down the following account as regards the origin of the name.

During the 2nd century of the Christian era what is now known as the "British Isles" were inhabited by tribes of people nomadic in their habits, roaming from place to place until, finding a locality congenial to their pursuits and tastes, settled, and made that place their home. These tribes selected from among their number one suited to be their chief, to lead them in their frequent expeditions against the neighboring tribes and command them when occasion required a leader. As each tribe was distinct in itself, broils and intencine disputes were frequent, and when an emergency arose making it necessary to call the tribe together, it was done by the chief blowing a horn. On hearing which, the tribe would assemble and follow the, leader their chief.

As they subsisted chiefly on fish and game, their farming was of the crudest kind, thus making their habits more aquatic than otherwise and was no doubt the reason for their selecting along the seashore places of above. These settlements in time became known as Lynnes and the prefix which indicated any particular "Lynne" was generally given it from some peculiarity of, or incident, connected with the tribe of any certain "Lynne" and the place would gradually assume the name of "Rock-lynne" or any other prefix that to them seemed most appropriate, and as a rule the place became known as such.

In one of these "Lynnes" the chief did not use a horn, but instead selected a large conch shell from among those that were to be found on the seashore, as a horn and from this shell the place became known as "Conch-Lynne", and the chief of the place was known by that name.

As the explanation certainly fits the name appropriately, there is no reason why it should not be accepted in view of the fact that no other evidence has been advanced to the contrary. The tradition further states that the place at which this "Conch-Lynne" was located is now the city of Belfast. It is evident from these facts that the Conklins have inhabited the place since 200 A. D.

From some cause not explained, they must have wandered over to what is now Scotland and continuing their migrations into England. In the year 1600 John Conklin was born in Nottingham, England and in 1638 we find this same John Conklin in Salem, Mass. where he and his brothers Ananias and Cornelius were allotted four acres of ground each, and were admitted as freemen with the right to hold office and vote in 1643. In the year 1651 we find John and Ananias in Southold, L. I. Cornelius remained at Salem and died there in 1667, and his widow married Robert Starr in 1668. It is from these brothers that the American Conklins, together with a party of other, went from Salem, Mass. to Southold, L. I. where they formed a colony, purchasing from the Indians sufficient land to meet their requirements. Ananias subsequently settled in Amagansett, L. I. and his descendants are still very numerous in that section. John in 1653 left Southold and went to Huntington where he lived until his death Feb. 23, 1684.

As the writer is a descendant of this John, he has made a special study of this branch of the family and while he has all the data necessary to make a complete history of the family of the other brother Ananias there has none of this branch come forward to take it up for completion. Therefore we offer to the descendants of John only what we believe and have every reason to suppose is a complete history, from the year 1600 to date. The real cause of the existence of this work was a controversy into which the writer was drawn several years since. The question that came up was "who and what are the Conklins?", and as the question could not be answered by any of the family, he thought it about time that some one of them should take it up and place the name where posterity could speak intelligently of their ancestors, and this work is the result of his labors.

Where shall I commence? This was a question about as hard to answer as the one that incited the motive, viz; who and what are the Conklins?

Having heard that they came from Salem, Mass. and acting on this slight clue, a letter was sent to the collector of taxes at Salem, and in reply the following letter was received.

City of Salem-Mass.
Treasurers' office-
Nov. 16, 1875

J. I. Conklin, Jr.

Dear Sir,

During the month since I received your letter of Oct. 15th, I have not been able to learn much if anything which will help you with your genealogy of the Conklin family; I find that on June 25th, 1638 Ananias Conklin had a grant of land in Salem, by vote of the town, and several grants subsequently.

John Conklin was received an inhabitant Sept. 14, 1640 and had a grant of land.

The last mention of them in the town records is May 30th, 1649, when they each had a grant of land.

Ananias had a child Lewis baptized in 1643, and two more, Jacob and Elizabeth Jan 18th, 1649.

Ananias was a glass man or manufacturer of Glass. He was admitted a Freeman or citizen with right to vote and hold office in 1643.

It is said that the Conklins removed from Salem to Long Island.

I am sorry that I cannot help you with regards to a more particular knowledge of the family and its origin.

Very Truly Yours,
M. J. Cross
Collector and Treasurer.

This was tidings, so turning our attention to Long Island, we began an onsluaght on the "oldest inhabitant" thereof. Asking all manner of questions until at last we found we were on the right track.

Finding there were several of the name at Huntington, L. I. from whom we might possibly get considerable information, we went there on a tour of inquiry.

On stepping from the train, we asked a cab driver if he knew of any Conklins living in the place. "Don't throw any stones or you may hit one" he replied. As we were not addicted to the habit of throwing stones, and even were we so inclined it would have been a much more difficult matter to find a stone than a Conklin in that sandy soil. He proved to be Jess Conklin.

Finding he was familiar with the names of all the residents, we had him drive us to the home of Mr. Strong Conklin. We spent a very pleasant afternoon in his company, and gained much information that was of great assistance to us in our future labors.

We are also especially indebted to Mr. Horace Rusco of the same place for a mine of information that it has taken him years to collect, and without which this work would be incomplete. The descendants of the first settlers of Long Island owe him a debt which they can never repay for his assiduous and careful manner in tracing several families.
