FOREWORD.

These notes of family history are published as a preliminary study. Only proved facts are given as truth, but in the hope of eliciting something yet unknown, there are noted vague traditions, fragmentary records, slight suggestions of a possible clue, and hypotheses worthy at least of careful scrutiny. He who adds a single stone to this cairn rearing to the memory of our ancestors, aids in a sacred work.

Corrections and additions of whatever nature, if supported by proper evidence, will be gladly received by the editor of this book. The record can be perfected only through the sympathetic co-operation of every branch of the family.

Roman numerals express the numbers of the generation, beginning with Charles Peters, the immigrant ancestor of the family ; Arabic figures, the successive children of the same parents.

Dates following a name are those of birth and death.

PETERS.

The English family of Peters is presumably of French descent, but immediately derived from Flanders. "Roger Petrus, the Flamand," is named in the Domesday Book, 1085-6. It is probably he, also, who is called Roger de Pistre in the list of men accompanying Duke William to England, preserved in the Church of Dives, Normandy, and in the Roll of Battle Abbey, 1066.

The name appears variously as Petrus, Pistre, Petre, Peter and Peters. The family was early established in Cornwall and Devon. In the reign of Henry II., 1216-72, the Manor of Compton was given by Lady Alice Pole to Petre of Tor-Brian, and this spot seems to have been a centre of dispersion. In the latter part of the fifteenth century, John Petre and his wife Alice Colin, were living at Tor-Newton in the Parish of Tor-Brian. They were the parents of (¹) William Petre, Secretary of State under Henry VIII., Edward VI., Mary and Elizabeth, from 1543 to 1571; (²) of John Petre, who remained in Devon, the male line of his descendants becoming extinct in the seventeenth century; and of (³) WILMOT PETRE, who married her kinsman, PETRE OF BOWAY, Parish of Stillingford near Exeter, with issue,—Otto, whose male line became extinct before 1700; and THOMAS, whose grandson, HENRY PETRE, married DEBORAH TREFFEY and settled in Cornwall about 1600. He represented the borough

To this line belonged the Reverend Richard Peters, 1704-76, Secretary of the Province of Pennsylvania. He came to Philadelphia in 1735 as the Assistant Rector of Christ Church. Two years later, he was made Proprietary Secretary in charge of the Land Office. He was Provincial Secretary and Clerk of the Council from 1762-75, and rector of Christ Church and of St. Peter's, Philadelphia.

See Dorr's History of Christ Church. For the Philadelphia family of Peters, his descendants, see the Sharpless Genealogy.

of Fowey in the first Parliament of James I. His son, Thomas Petre, married Elizabeth Mitchell, of Harlyn, Cornwall, where their descendants continue to live under the name of Peter. This Thomas Peter was a zealous royalist during the Great Rebellion. When imprisoned by Cromwell, it was recorded that he was "released through the influence of his maternal kinsman, Hugh Peters."

The Devonshire family, being Protestants, are said to have added the "s" to the name to distinguish themselves from their Catholic cousins, the descendants of Lord Petre. It is also said to have been assumed during a sojourn in Wales, and then adopted by the family in Cornwall. This statement of Burke accords with traditions of Dr. Charles Peters's descent, surviving in distinct lines of his descendants;—the one, that he came from Wales, intercourse with sisters there being maintained during his life, and the other that he was from Penzance, Cornwall. The fore-name, Charles, recurs in successive generations of the Cornish family.

The arms of our family are those of the above families of Essex, Cornwall and Devon, namely:

Shield, gules; two escallops argent; between, a bend or, charged with a Cornish chough¹; sable proper, between two cinque-foils argent.

Crest: two lions' heads erased and endorsed; the dexter, or, collared azure; the sinister, azure, collared, or.

Legend: SANS DIEU RIEN.

DR. CHARLES PETERS.

Our own family was planted in America by Dr. Charles Peters. There are but few traces of his life here, and no evidence exists fixing his English home or parentage.

Scattered but authentic mention of him is found in official documents. The first occurrence of his name discovered, is in the census of New York for 1703, entered as follows:

“Dr. Peters: Family, 1 male, 1 female, 1 female child.”¹

He married Mary Hewlett, with known issue reaching adult life, of five sons and three daughters. His son, Valentine Hewlett, was born in Perth Amboy, New Jersey, August 18, 1716; but careful search of the Proprietors' Records finds no trace of Dr. Peters's residence there. He was living in Hempstead, Long Island, February 2, 1720.² His will is dated Hempstead, February 17, 1731, and was probated at New York April 3, 1733.³

The house of Dr. Charles Peters is still standing in Hempstead, on Fulton Street, the second house from Main Street. It is owned by Mr. Thomas Henry Clowes, whose grandfather bought it in 1770, from James Peters, son of Valentine Hewlett Peters. Until within a few years, the rear of the house was unchanged, shingled to the ground, and containing two low-studded rooms with heavy beams, great fire-places about the central chimney, low mantels and chimney closets. These old rooms were removed in 1890, but there still remain the floor-timbers and one mantel, while the parlor floor, Mr. Clowes asserts, is that “our ancestors walked over.” In the garden, a gnarled grapevine covering a long arbor, is probably as old as the house itself. The land attached, and sold by James Peters, was from forty to fifty acres, extending from the corner of Fulton and Main Streets to Franklin Street, and northward to the Bedell lands.

The burial place of Dr. Charles Peters is unknown, as is also that of his wife, Mary Hewlett Peters, and of his eldest son, Dr. Charles Peters 2d, who died in 1766. They were probably buried in the old village ground at Hempstead (adjoining the Presbyterian Church), and theirs are among the hundreds of nameless graves whose stones were torn up during the Revolution and used as hearth-stones or oven-bottoms by the soldiers quartered in the old meeting-house. These unmarked graves begin very near those of his sons, Valentine Hewlett, Edward and John, shown in the frontispiece.

DESCENT OF MARY HEWLETT PETERS.

On August 15, 1646, were married, at the old Dutch Church in Nieuw Amsterdam,

I. "Louis Húlet wed^r van Wackraet Rutte, en Helena Appelgat, Wed^e van Thomas ffarington."

The above "Húlet of Buckinghamshire" was in Hempstead at the Division of Land in 1647. He married (third), 1648, — Marwyn, of England, who is believed to be the mother of his children.¹

Issue:

- II. 1. Jane, = Adam Mott.
2. John, d. unm. at Hempstead.
3. Lewis, d. unm. at Cow Neck.
4. GEORGE, = MARY BAYLES.²

III. (Order probably not correct.)

Daniel Hewlett, = Sarah Jackson; Merricks.

George Hewlett, = Hannah Smith; Great Neck.³

Lewis Hewlett, = Grace Hallet; Cow Neck.

John Hewlett, = Mary Smith; Cold Spring.

MARY HEWLETT, = CHARLES PETERS, M. D.

Phœbe Hewlett, 1694-1730; unm.

¹ Not, however, of Jane, whose marriage is thus recorded July 28, 1648: "Adam Moet j. m. uiyt 'T Graefschap Esseck, en Jenne Húlet j. d. uiyt 'T Graefscap Buckingham."

² Married at Gravesend, May 14, 1680, "by Justice James Hubbard, George Hewlett, of Hempstead, to Mary Bayles, of Jamaica." Their graves are at Hempstead, marked by small field stones, rudely cut with the letters G. H. 1722; M. H. 1733; aged 78.

ISSUE OF DR. CHARLES PETERS.

- II. Charles Peters, M. D., d. 1766 (p. 11).
Mary Peters (p. 20).
Valentine Hewlett Peters, 1716-1786 (p. 25).
John Peters, 1721-1806 (p. 66).
Edward Peters, 1723-1780 (p. 78).
George Peters, 1726-1782 (p. 81).
Anne Peters, = Timothy Smith.
Charity Peters, = Richard Smith.

The order of the above names is merely inferential. There is some reason to suppose that Mary was the eldest child. There were probably others, who died in infancy.

Of the younger daughters, it is only known that Anne Peters and Timothy Smith were married by license, at Saint George's Church, Hempstead, by the Reverend Samuel Seabury, February 19, 1744. The baptismal register of the church records that their children, Deborah and Catharine Smith, were baptized March 16, 1762; Mary and Charles Peters Smith, April 16, 1762. Letters of administration were given to Anne Smith, wife of Timothy Smith, late of Hempstead, and to Valentine Hewlett Peters, August 9, 1769.

Charity Peters was probably born after May 3, 1730, as on that day were baptized, by the Reverend Robert Jenney, "John, Edward and George, sons, and Anne, daughter, of Charles and Mary Peters." She was married to Richard Smith, in Saint George's Church, by the Reverend Samuel Seabury, January 28, 1755. Richard Smith was probably the son of Joseph Smith, d. 1751, son of Joseph Smith, d. 1732, the son of John Smith, Rock., 1615-1706.

Timothy Smith was also, without doubt, a great grandson of "Rock John." It is hoped that a clue to their descendants may be found by the publication of these notes.

DR. CHARLES PETERS 2D.

Charles Peters 2d was born between the years 1710 and 1714, because not of age when his father's will was written in February, 1731, while on June 27, 1735, he was one of the Petitioners for the Charter of Saint George's Church. He died between November 5 and December 20, 1766, the dates of the writing and the proving of his own will.¹

His name occurs often in the records of Saint George's Church and in the Town Books of Hempstead. In Book E is an agreement made March 10, 1762, between "Dr. Charles Peters, gentleman, of the first part, and ———, yeoman." In 1767 his executors, Valentine Hewlett Peters and Benjamin Hewlett, offer for sale "The Plantation of Dr. Chas. Peters, on the north side of Hempstead Plains. It contains 200 acres of clear land in good fence; a large, commodious house, barns, outhouses and a stone well." This estate and the practice of Dr. Peters passed into the hands of Dr. Benjamin Tredwell. The farm, lying a mile beyond East Williston, is now owned by Richard Robbins.

Dr. Peters was married May 22, 1736, by the Reverend Robert Jenney, to JEANE DENTON, and (secondly) July 6, 1759, to RACHEL LATHAM, mother of his only surviving son. She married, secondly, December 8, 1768, John Symonson.

Mary, Elizabeth, Letitia, Susannah and Charity were baptized by the Rev. Samuel Seabury, April 25, 1757. Letitia is not named in her father's will, and probably died, unmarried, before 1766.

III. JEANE PETERS.

JEANE PETERS married SAMUEL SKIDMORE,¹ house carpenter; m. lic. August 7, 1759. The will of Samuel Skidmore, dated September 21, 1762, probated September 24, names his "dear and well-beloved wife Jeane," his daughter Susannah, his brothers Walter, Nathan and Joseph, his sister Mary, and appoints as executors his "father, Charles Peters, and his father, Joseph Skidmore." Their daughter,

IV. SUSANNAH SKIDMORE = DANIEL LEFFERTS, by m. lic., dated July 13, 1782. There all trace of mother and daughter is lost. Miss Anne Van Wyck, to whom the editor is indebted for many suggestions, recalls the family tradition of one "Cousin Jenny Searing," whom she believes to have been this sister of her grandmother, Susannah Peters Hewlett. As no trace can be found of Elizabeth, who married Daniel Searing, Miss Van Wyck suggests that she may have died soon after her marriage, and have been succeeded by her sister, the widowed Jeane Peters Skidmore.

Neither is there any trace of the descendants of Mary Peters and James Willis.

III. SUSANNAH PETERS.

SUSANNAH PETERS married her second cousin, GEORGE HEWLETT (m. lic. June 5, 1766), son of Benjamin Hewlett

III. JOHN PETERS.

JOHN PETERS, born at Hempstead in 1760; died at Manhasset, December 19, 1847. He married (1st) MARY FOWLER—m. lic. Feb. 17, 1783—the mother of his children, and who, with the elder two, was lost at sea returning from New Orleans. The younger children had remained there with their uncle, the famous merchant, Solomon Fowler. He married (2d) Miss Lockwood, of Stamford, Conn.

John Peters was a tea merchant in New York, and a ship-owner largely engaged in trade with China. He made a fortune, entirely lost by fire and shipwreck within a few months. Much testimony remains to his lovely character, and to the philosophy with which he bore his reverses.

He had issue:

Throughout the Revolution he was an outspoken Loyalist, and the author of the "Hempstead Resolutions," which as Town Clerk he drew up April 4, 1775;³ but one of those who endured at home, he did not accompany his son James and his many kindred in their exile to Nova Scotia.

¹ V. H. P. wrote in the Tredwell Family Bible, now owned by his great-great-granddaughter, Mrs. Alfred T. Slauson, of Plainfield, N. J.: "My dear wife departed this life 14 August, 1783, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning." Dr. Tredwell adds to the record of their children: "The ever honored parent and father of the above children, Valentine Hewlett Peters, Esq., departed this life 6th October, 1786, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning, after an illness of fourteen hours."

² He was Warden of Saint George's Church, 1744-74; County Treasurer, 1757; Judge of Queens County, 1757-74; Town Clerk of Hempstead, 1747-83.

Thomas Horsfield (1740-1819) became a magistrate of Saint John, a man of influence and large estate. Horsfield Street and Horsfield Wharf (later, Peters Wharf) were named for him.

III.

JAMES PETERS.

JAMES PETERS, eldest son of Valentine Hewlett Peters, was b. in Hempstead, L. I., February 9, 1746. The earliest mention of him is in 1761, as one of the pupils of the Seabury School at Hempstead, which proposed "to entertain young gentlemen in a genteel manner for £30 a year." On June 18, 1767, he m. MARGARET LESTER (b. October 8, 1749; d. 1825), dau. of Benjamin Lester, of Queens County. In 1770 he was living in Hempstead, in the house built by his grandfather, Dr. Charles Peters. There is no record of him on Long Island after this. Some indications exist of a sojourn in Orange County during the first years of the Revolution. In 1782 he was in the City of New York, engaged in the plans for the establishment of the Loyalists in Nova Scotia, an agent for the taking up of lands on the River Saint John, and one of "The Fifty-five" claiming from Sir Guy Carleton the rights of field officers. He was the leader of "the Spring Fleet," that band of Long Island exiles landing at the mouth of the Saint John, May 18, 1783, and was one of the original grantees of Parrtown, later the City of Saint John, receiving Lots 11 and 54.

In 1784 he bought lands farther up the river, and in 1792 established his family at Gagetown, where he died January 19, 1820.

His miniatures and portrait represent a man of genial face and fine presence. His dignified carriage and gracious deportment are still traditions in the Province.

HARRY PETERS.

HARRY PETERS, second son of Valentine Hewlett Peters, was born at Hempstead, November 23, 1753, and died in the City of New York, December 27, 1827.

In October, 1776, he was one of the Queens County Addressers to Lord Howe. From 1778 to 1783 he was Captain of Militia in the King's service. June 28, 1783, he is on the list of persons indicted for "adhering to the enemies of the State of New York," summoned to appear before the Supreme Court and show reason why their property should not be confiscated. Nevertheless, he remained in Hempstead at the close of the Revolution, and was the Representative from Queens County in the State Assembly during the session of 1794. He later engaged in business in the City of New York, and his house, at the corner of Bank and Greenwich Streets, was the rallying place of all the kindred of the Saint John family, with whom he retained the closest associations, and the home of his widowed and unmarried sisters and of orphaned nieces. He was one of the founders of Saint George's Church, Beekman Street, but is buried in his vault in the yard of Saint Paul's Chapel.

Harry Peters married twice: June 25, 1776, to MAGDALENA DURYEA, born May 6, 1758; died March 22, 1806; the mother of his only child; and secondly, October 13, 1807, to CATHARINA BRINCKERHOFF, born April 4, 1765.

III.

JANE PETERS.

JANE PETERS, seventh and youngest daughter of Valentine Hewlett Peters, was born at Hempstead, March 23, 1762. July 21, 1804, she married JOHN MARTIN BAKER, and died childless July 11, 1818.

III.

WILLIAM PETERS.

WILLIAM PETERS, youngest child of Valentine Hewlett Peters, was born May 13, 1764. Much uncertainty exists in regard to his life and descendants. A tradition prevails in Saint John, that a younger brother of their ancestor, James Peters, was embarked for England, after the close of the war, and lost by the burning of the ship in New York harbour.

The Tredwell MS. says, "he married ANN ———, a Quakeress, and they were the parents of Deborah Hamilton."

In the Register of Saint George's Church, Hempstead, is recorded the baptisms, — 1783, of Jane	}	daughters of William and Ann Peters.

and
Ruth

And,

July 18, 1786:

Sophia, daughter of William and Ann Peters.

There is no later trace of these names.

II. JOHN PETERS.

JOHN PETERS, third son of Dr. Charles Peters, was born at Hempstead, March 9, 1721; died December 24, 1806, and was buried at Hempstead. He was a Warden of Saint George's Church from 1752 to 1779. He was a landowner and inn-keeper at Norwich, Queens County, and is named in the Town Book of Hempstead, 1745, as "John Peters, Sadler."

He married, December 4, 1748, ELIZABETH GILDERSLEEVE, and secondly, August 30, 1752, ELIZABETH SMITH.¹

II. EDWARD PETERS.

A name on a lichened stone in the Hempstead graveyard, a single entry on the mouldering pages of Town and State Records, are the only legal evidences of the existence of EDWARD PETERS, fourth son of Dr. Charles Peters, beyond the mention of him in the will of his father and of his mother.

Born March 25, 1723; died March 27, 1780.

In the Town Book of Hempstead, E., p. 108, he is recorded among the petitioners for a new highway, May 27, 1749, and to his name is appended the note, "Edward Peters lives on the north side" (of Hempstead Plains).

In the State Library, Albany, in Marriage Bonds, vol. 1, p. 917, is the entry of an application for a marriage license, May 11, 1758, to CATHARINE CASSIDY,¹ Spinster. The bonds were given May 30, 1758, by

"Edward Peters, of Queens County, Hatter, and William Atkinson, of the City of New York, Butcher."

Of Catharine Cassidy—"Old Aunt Kate Peters," "Grandmother Kate Peters"—the editor has heard many traditions, particularly among the descendants of James Peters, of Westbury, whose granddaughter, Mrs. Oliver (p. 80), claims her as her great-grandmother. There is every evidence but the documentary proof, that James Peters was the son of Edward, and it is very probable that several of the unplaced names on page 161 are of Edward's children.

III. JAMES PETERS.

JAMES PETERS, of Westbury, is said to have been a Quaker, who "married out." That is more probably true of his first wife, MARY POWELL, of a Quaker family, who was married

GEORGE PETERS.

GEORGE PETERS, youngest son of Dr. Charles Peters, was born at Hempstead, April 13, 1726, and died on the Pleasant Valley farm, in Dutchess County, in the fall of 1782. He married (at Saint George's Church, Hempstead, by the Rev'd Samuel Seabury), July 23, 1749, SARAH SMITH (daughter of Abel Smith and Ruth Jackson¹), born October 31, 1732. They lived for a time at Littleworth, now Glenwood, Oyster Bay. In 1764, they moved to the Charlotte Precinct, Dutchess County, settling on an estate of three hundred and fifty acres in that part of the township of Clinton, set off as Pleasant Valley in 1821. The homestead was on the Dutchess Turnpike, just east of the Upper Valley, near the site of the second toll-gate. The house, although entirely remodeled, is still standing among old locust trees and a magnificent black walnut, probable contemporaries of George Peters.

The Will of George Peters² is dated February 4, 1777, and was probated December 2, 1782. He therein names himself as "Yeoman and cooper." On the Pleasant Valley farm was always in operation a cooper-shop, in which successive generations of boys were trained. The exact time and circumstances of his death are unknown. Mr. George Germond, his last surviving grandson, says he died of a fever, resulting from exposure on a journey to the southeast, in charge of a herd of cattle for use of the British Army. His

III. CHARLES PETERS.

III. MAURICE SMITH PETERS.

CHARLES PETERS, third son of George Peters, was born in 1758. MAURICE SMITH PETERS, the fourth son, was born in 1760. His name is written Morris, in his father's will. On a family record made from tradition, about 1840, it is said they "were tories, and went to Nova Scotia or to the West Indies." The former place was probably the refuge of Charles, the latter of Maurice. They were Loyalists, and in the British Army. In the roll of Capt. Lester's Company, Third Battalion of the DeLancey Brigade, taken prisoners at Lloyd's Neck in 1780, is the name of Sergeant Charles Peters. Hewlett Peters (p. 120), son of their younger brother, Hewlett Peters, was wont to say that they came often, with their army friends, to their father's house at Pleasant Valley. Their nephew, George Germond (p. 137), has added that it became necessary to make these visits secretly, and that they had many narrow escapes from capture. A neighbour had sworn that did they come again, they should not leave the town alive. But Charles came as usual, soon after, and when he had finished his visit, in the early gray of the dawn, rode in full accoutrements to the house of the neighbour, arousing the man to say that he had heard he was wanted,—here he was. Then shouting defiance, he set spurs to his horse and galloped away.

CHARLES PETERS, presumably the above, was a grantee of Parrtown (Saint John, N. B.), receiving Lot 1034. There he disappears from record. A tradition exists among the descendants of his cousin, James Peters, that he went thence to Upper Canada, and that a Peters of our family settled at Toronto.

Mr. Germond also said that in his childhood, about 1808, there came to his home on Germond Hill, his uncle and aunt "from the Provinces," with a little boy, James, who spent the winter there, going to school with him. His only distinct remembrance was of the strong feeling that they "were different from us."

It is probable that after the close of the Revolution, Maurice drifted into a sea-faring life, finally settling in the West Indies. Mrs. Hannah Germond Vosburgh, daughter of Jemima Peters, says "There was Uncle Maurice, too; he was a sailor." Mr. Hewlett Peters also recalls the visit—about 1812—of a sailor uncle to the Pleasant Valley homestead, bringing the children gifts of Indian shells and bandannas. Later, notice was there received from the British authorities in some one of the Bahama Islands, of the death, intestate, and without legal heirs, of this uncle. No action was taken to learn more, and the clue was soon lost.

Many efforts have been vainly made to trace the probable descendants of Charles. The story of these two grandsons of our immigrant ancestor must remain unwritten.

THE HEMPSTEAD GRAVES.

The frontispiece of this book is from a water-colour sketch made by Miss Harriette Peters, of Saint John, in November, 1890. The graves are situated in the grounds of the Presbyterian Church, on Washington Street, Hempstead, and are so near the side of the church that it is possible that the undiscovered graves of Charles and Mary Peters are beneath its foundations.

Four stones are of red sandstone, with clear cut inscriptions, as follows:—

APPENDIX VII.

UNPLACED NAMES.

In Church records and in official documents, in scattering newspaper notices and in fragmentary tradition, are occasional mention of Peters names which may possibly be of our family. From great store of such memoranda, the editor gives a few selections in the hope that they may come to the notice of someone in whom they will stimulate inquiry, and possibly lead to the answering of many perplexing questions.

The following marriages recorded in the register of St. George's Church, Hempstead, may very possibly be of the children of Edward Peters (p. 78).

Feb. 27, 1779. Phoebe Peters to Timothy Brooks.

Sept. 12, 1782. Ruth Titus of Oyster Bay, to Samuel Peters of Hempstead.

Oct. 3, 1784. (Name illegible) to Samuel Peters.

1789. Catharine Peters of North Hempstead, to Samuel Denton.

LIST OF YORK TORIES

A Thomas Peters signed the "Declaration" of Queens County, Jan. 19, 1776.

Thomas Peters received Lot 907 at Parrrtown, 1783.

Thomas Peters, born 1749, died at Fredericton, N. B., in 1813.

The Petition against "The Fifty-five," 1782, was signed by William Peters and Samuel Peters.

William Peters received Lot 1330 at Parrrtown.

Mr. George Hewlett Peters (p. 113), about 1850, knew in Newark, N. J., one Horatio Nelson Peters, whom he believed to be of our family. The children of the latter know nothing of his descent.

In Saratoga County, N. Y., is a family of Peters, many of whose members bear the same racial characteristics as the Peters of Long Island. From varying traditions and imperfect records, they trace their ascent to Richard Peters, one of four brothers—Thomas, Hugh, William and Richard—who went from Wales to England, coming thence to America. Richard owned large tracts of land about Clifton Park, Saratoga, and his son Richard settled in Davenport, Delaware County, N. Y.
