Fanning,

Captain James Fanning; died, 1776 in his 93rd year; Grand-son of Dominicus Fanning, Mayor of city in Ireland under Charles 1; taken prisoner at Battle of Drogheda 1649. All the Garrison, except himself, put to the sword; he was beheaded by Cromwell and his head stuck on a pole at the principal gate of the city; his property confiscated because when Charles 1 made proclamation of peace, as member of Irish Commonwealth, he advised not to accept it unless the British Government would secure to the Irish their property and their lives.

His son, Edmund, born, Kilkenny, Ireland, married Catherine, daughter of Hugh Hays, Earl of Connough and emigrated to this country, with his family consisting of his wife, Catherine, two sons Thomas and William; two servants, Lahorne and Orna, and settled in Stonington, Conn.

William died in battle with the Indians, killed by King William, who split his head open with a tomahawk.

Thomas had a daughter Catherine Page and one son James;- this Captain James served under Great Britain when that Government was at war with France.

He married Hannah Smith of Smithtown and had five sons and four daughters; i.e. Phineas, Thomas, Gilbert and Edmund, James, Catherine, Bethia, Sally and Nancy.

Phineas had a son Phineas who graduated at Yale in 1768; two of whose sons are now living in 1850, i.e.

Fanning,

William in New York City and P. W. in Wilmington, North Carolina.

His wife Hannah, son Thomas and daughter Catherine buried beside Father. Gilbert settled in Stoningto, Conn., Edmond became Lt. Gov. of Nova Scotia where he held large estates. James settled on Long Island; two sons, John and James;

the latter a merchant who for many years resided three miles East of Riverhead had five sons, four of whom are now living; the elder James died at Moriches in his 72nd year, 1848.

Nathaniel residing in town of Southampton; two, Manasseh and Israel residing in Riverhead Township and the 5th, Joshua, Physician, in Greenspoint, Southold Township.

Sally, married Captain Josiah
Lupton, Catherine married a Mumford, Bethiah married a Terry and Nancy
